A Good-Sized Army Of RUGS

Domestic and Oriental

Looked at from two distinct angles, this floorcovering event offers advantages that are unequalled:

FIRST—it is an ideal opportunity for one to solve the perplexing rug problems that arise, almost annually, when the home interior is being rearranged for fall.

SECOND—it is a sale notable for value-giving, permitting all who buy Rugs NOW to SAVE MONEY!

The kind of rug wanted, the size and quality, the exact colorings to harmonize with one's scheme of decoration, are important phases of the rug question that our rug stock is prepared to answer completely, and to one's entire satisfaction.

Realizing the timeliness of such a sale, we secured these staple floor coverings at deep price concessions. Although our policy does not permit us to mention the makers' names, in some of the rugs you will find the trade name of the fabric woven in the back.

Patterns and colors, prices and quantities have in this purchase been carefully considered from every viewpoint. Each grade is singularly complete in assortment; designs and color combinations are carefully selected; and the M. & R. standard of quality has been maintained in every instance.

Special Notice

Those making purchases of Rugs and other home furnishings now may have them delivered later; as such time as will best suit their convenience.

FIND HOME DESTROYED

Barton Heights Residence Prey of Flames in Early Morning.
A lone chimney and a pile of debris, all that remained of the handsome two-story frame dwelling of E. W. Handy, of 1206 Barton Avenue, was the sight which greeted Mrs. Handy and her three children yesterday when they returned from a summer vacation. The house had been destroyed by fire early yesterday morning with a loss of about $2,000. Other residents in the immediate vicinity were endangered by the conflagration.

The conflagration from Barton Heights and Glinter Park and a chemical engine from Richmond were hurried to the scene and succeeded in saving adjoining property, but arrived too late to save the Handy dwelling. Mr. Handy was alone in the house at the time of the fire, the origin of which is unknown. He was rescued by the efforts of neighbors, who were alerted by a second-story window in the bedroom, the stairs being choked with smoke and flame.

Franklin Vaughan, the young farmer of Bumpass, Va., who was operated on at Memorial Hospital Monday night for a ruptured blood vessel, an injury which he sustained when he was thrown over the dashboard of a huge motor while driving a spirited horse, was last night reported as being in critical condition. His aged mother submitted to a transfusion of her blood to the body of her son, when she discovered that his life was endangered, and both operations were successful. She was reported as being in no danger last night. Vaughan is the nephew of the late Newton Vaughan, who was a Congressman in this city.

His Hearing Postponed.

Reports that Harris had been seen in the vicinity of Gayton headed toward Westhampton, stirred the authorities to action. They are determined not to rest until the search until the negro is arrested.

Conferees between traffic authorities of the Virginia Railway and Power Company and the Council Committee on Streets, charged with investigating complaints against the present routing of the Hull Street cars, have resulted in the adoption of a new plan, which will bring these cars to Broad Street around a loop.

The Power Company is now engaged in preparing a definite plan for the new arrangement to be presented to the subcommittee at a meeting which will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The committee consists of Aldermen Powers, chairman, and Councilmen Moore and Hamilton. Councilman Jones, of Madison Ward, is an ex-officio member of the committee and has taken part in the conference.

"We have practically agreed upon a plan," said Chairman Powers, last night. "It remains only to work out the details of the schedule and to decide upon the route of the loop. TRAVELING SALESMAN ARRESTED AS 'MASHER'

Mack Danby, Alias John Baker, of Baltimore, Alleged to Have Accosted Young Woman.

Sent to Station-House Despite His Protests That "It Is the Practice" in Monumental City--Several Such Cases Recently Heard.

"You look mighty good to me, girlie, and I'd like to know you," was the expression which Mack Danby, alias John Baker, a traveling salesman for a Baltimore house, is alleged to have used when he attempted to accost a young woman on Broad Street, near Seventh, shortly before a o'clock last night.

The young woman raised her head a trifle higher and brushed by. As she raised her eyes she saw Patrolman Angel, in citizen's dress, passing. Knowing the difficulty he was taken to settle the difficulty, he was taken to the station-house. The officer, who immediately stopped and told him of the occurrence. Danby, in the meantime, had continued his way. Angel started after him, and caught him at Seventh Street, where he placed him under arrest. Patrolman Waldrop was on the corner there, and came up at that moment. In spite of the man's protests and offers to settle the difficulty, he was taken to the station-house. ALL LEGISLATION DIES UPON DOCKET

Board of Aldermen Fails to Must-ter Two-Thirds Majority, and Adjourns Sine Die.

SPEECHES CLOSE MEETING

Municipal Employment Bureau Measure Among Those Which Meet With Defeat.

Failure on the part of the Board of Aldermen last night to muster the two-thirds majority needed for concurrence in measures carrying appropriations, caused the death of all pending legislation on the Board's docket, and the body adjourned sine die after hearing complimentary speeches from President Adams, Vice-President Powers and Aldermen Mitchell and Denny.

The most widely-discussed measure on the docket was the ordinance creating a municipal employment bureau. It had been introduced by the Council last night, and was up for consideration with a favorable recommendation from the Ordinance Committee. The fact that it carried an appropriation of $2,000 a year for salaries made it a two-thirds majority necessary for its passage by the Board. The ordinance died with the adjournment.

Friends of the municipal employment bureau project said last night that an ordinance creating such a department will be introduced next month. It would have been law now had not an attempt been made at the last meeting of the Board to amend it so as to restore certain salary cuts that had been made by the Finance Committee.

CASE NEW ORDINANCE

It was predicted that if a new ordinance creating a municipal employment bureau was introduced it will be cast on different lines from the last one. Many members of the Council are of the opinion that the bureau, if one is established, should be under the direction of the Administrative Board. This view, it appears, is in the favor of the ordinance. The Board's docket created a new independent board to direct this enterprise.

"I am glad the ordinance died," said Alderman Mitchell, who introduced it last night. "It may create a lot of discussion. The whole matter ought to be settled by the Administrative Board. The Board was created to take charge of such matters, and it ought to do so and assume responsibility for it. It begins to look as if the Board was afraid of the employment bureau, and declined to accept the charge, and instead, it created a new independent board. It is the first instance of the board's declining anything that has come to my attention."

On the Board's docket was also the joint resolution appropriating $500 to defray the expenses of a delegation from the city to the seventh annual convention of the Atlantic Deep-sea Waterways Association, which will be held in New York September 22-27. The resolution will be introduced again when the new Council organizes next month.

ADAMS GIVES THANKS

President Adams addressed a short speech to the members of the body, thanking them for the cooperation extended him during the past two years. Vice-President Powers spoke in the same vein. He drew the Board's attention to several of the important measures that had been accomplished by the Council, now approaching dissolution, mentioning in particular the passage of the ordinance creating the municipal employment bureau, the appropriation of $500,000, through a bond issue, for street improvements.

Mr. Powers paid a personal tribute to Alderman Gustaf, of Lee Ward, who, he said, deserved commendation for his single-handed fight for the $500,000 bond issue, which he waged successfully in the face of strong opposition. Gustaf had thanked him for his kind words, and expressed his regret that he was unable to do what he did only by the help of the other members of the Board and Council, and that they had not been able to go around. Alderman Mitchell expressed his regrets of the members who go over at the departure from the body of Aldermen Denny, Grimes, Bailey and Perkins, of whom he went out with the present Council.

COMMUTES HER SENTENCE

Woman in Norfolk Will Go to Jail Instead of Penitentiary.
Governor Harrison yesterday afternoon commuted the sentence of Daisy Roberts, alias Mrs. Jimmy Wood, recently sentenced to Norfolk Prison for a year in the State Penitentiary to twelve months in jail.

The woman is in a delicate condition of health, and this circumstance moved the court officers and other officials in Norfolk to intercede in her behalf. The petition for a commutation of sentence was effectively presented to the Governor by the Commonwealth's Attorney, who had previously secured the conviction of "Mrs. Jimmy." The trial judge was moved to compassion, but he gave the strength of his indorsement to the petition presented by the humane protector.

WILL ADJUST DIFFERENCES

Amble Writes to Chairman Saunders, of Henrico Supervisors, Urging That Commonwealth's Attorney Take Up Annexation Case.

Carefully into effect an ordinance which became law last week, Mayor Amble yesterday addressed a letter to W. Conway Saunders, chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Henrico County, suggesting that a conference be held at an early date between the Commonwealth's Attorney, of Henrico County, and the City Attorney, for the purpose of drawing up a contract between the city and county designed to adjust all points of difference arising from the annexation proceedings.

Under the terms of the ordinance $500,000 is appropriated by the city to be expended upon Henrico County roads leading into Richmond. In consideration of this appropriation the county is to abandon its fight against the annexation decree of Judge Campbell. The county is to be expended under the joint direction of the Board of Supervisors of Henrico County and the Administrative Board, and upon sections of road within ten miles of the city.

CLERK OF THE CITY

The Mayor's letter follows: "W. Conway Saunders, Chairman Board of Supervisors, Henrico County, City of Henrico: "Dear Sir, I have the pleasure to inform you that, by an ordinance of the Council of the city of Richmond, the Mayor is authorized to enter into a contract with your honorable body under the terms and conditions set forth in the said ordinance, the general object of which is to terminate the litigation pending between the city and the County of Henrico, and known as annexation proceedings."

Assuming that the terms of the ordinance are known and approved by your honorable body, and that you are prepared to enter into the contract therein provided for, I respectfully suggest that you cause an appropriate step to be taken to cause a conference between the City Attorney of Richmond and the Commonwealth's Attorney of Henrico County, for the purpose of drafting the contract to be entered into by the city and the County of Henrico, and known as annexation proceedings."

Very respectfully yours,
Signed "GEORGE AMBLE," Mayor.

STUDENT AND QUEER PET APPEAR IN POLICE COURT

Prisoner, Who Claims to Be Candidate for Ministry, Accused of Nauseating Board.

Ralph C. Jones, who claims to be a divinity student from Chicago and who was arrested last night on a charge of attempting to break into the city hall, appeared in Police Court yesterday morning. He was charged with attempting to break into the city hall, and was held in jail until September 2.

Jones told the court that he was twenty-seven years old and a candidate for the ministry. He said he had been selling books during his vacation, and that he was a stranger in Richmond.

He told the court that he had been arrested several days ago, claiming to be a book agent for a Chicago concern. On Monday he proposed that he should be released on his own recognizance, and that his luggage be held by the hotel until he could forward the amount of his bill from that city. However, it was learned that his baggage was of little value, and the hotel people refused to accept his request.

Jones pleaded his case with some skill, but was unable to win it and was committed to the prisoners' pen still claiming to be a divinity student. He remained with him throughout his stay in the City Jail.
